From the Commodore

Ebb Tide:

Definition: An outgoing current or flow of water.

I am taking the boat down river today to be pulled for winter. I always wait until the last minute because I hate to give up the season.

But the seasons change for a reason. Just like an ebb tide, change is necessary for replenishment.

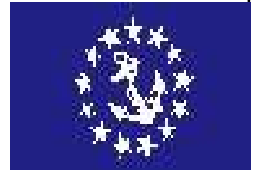

As such, I have been honored to be your Commodore over the past three years, but it is time to get some new blood in the club. I think the Club is healthier than it has ever been. The facilities are in great shape and there are more improvements slated for the future years. But a lot of this work is still done by the same few that have done it for years.

I encourage you to take an active part in the BOG and the day to day maintenance that is probably invisible to most. We should be proud of our facilities and not take them for granted.

I'll be hanging around to help where needed, but let's get some new faces involved as us old timers hopefully spend a lot more time on the water.

See ya there....(on the water)

Ron Cox

Good Luck to our members who have stepped forward and volunteered to run for office, serving DYK on the 2007 Board of Governors

From the Dock Master

"Thank You " to all that showed up and helped during the DYC Work Day on 14 October. We finished all the items on the list during a perfect fall day.

A few key items were:

Installation of 130 piling caps on the outer pilings (thanks to all the boats & crews that helped)

Installation of the bird deterrents flag system

Installation of additional "No Wake" signs

Installation of hooks in the locker room to hang lines from

Moving of the box trailer

Installation of rack numbers on the daysail racks, and

Installation/modification of the floating dock.

With the boating season coming to a close be sure to notify me when you have vacated your slip for the season. If you plan on remaining in your slip, don't forgot about the winter condition requirements to double your mooring lines. Additionally, if you have vacated your slip for the year please remember to remove your dock lines, water hose, and electrical cords, so they remain in good condition for next year and don't create a hazard on the dock during winter.

Dry slips and Day Sail racks please make sure your boats are secure for winter.

Have a Safe and Happy Holidays

I look forward to seeing you down by the docks.
